INDIANA REPUBLICANS

ASSEMBLE TO CHOOSE A NOMINEE FOR GOVERNOR.

Chairman Calkins' Speech Loudly Applauded—General Harrison Invited to Attend—He Accepts and Makes a Speech.
The Platform—The Candidates Named.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 8.—Tomlinson hall was profusely decorated with bunting and pictures of Republican presidents. An immense American flag, with a life size portrait of Harrison and a little one of Morton, was suspended from the stage over the chair-man's desk.

Ten o'clock was named as the hour for the convention to assemble but as early as 5:30 the streets on both sides of the hall were crowded. Within a short time after the doors were open standing room on the floor or in the gallery was at a premium. No such remarkable interest was ever manifested in the state conventions before, but at the same time there is very little enthusiasm.

It was 10:30 when Chairman Huston, of the state committee called the convention to order. Before he could say anything the chairmen of a dozen delegations were on their feet, clamoring that seats were occupied by unauthorized parties. The sergentat-arms was instructed to remove the interlopers and to clear the aisles. Confusion prevailed for some time. Futile efforts were made to clear the hall.

The chair rapped vainly for order until last a resolution was adopted instructing the chairman of the various county committees to proceed to scrutinize the various delegation and determine who were interlopers.
After half an hour wasted in this way without result another motion to adjourn was defeated in the midst of great confusion.

Rev. E. F. White was introduced to open the proceedings with prayer. This had a soothing effect, and when he concluded a resolution inviting Gen. Harrison to visit the convention was adopted with a whoop.
Hon. R. W. Thompson, E. N. Hammond and John W. Linck were appointed to escort him from his home.

The report of the credential's committee showed that all the counties were represented and not a single contest. Temporary organization was dispensed with and permanent organization was quietly effected with Congressman W. H. Calkins as chairman and Senator Demott as principal secretary.
Hon. Thomas H. Nelson of Terre Haute, and Gen. Joseph M. Shackelford of Evansville, were selected as presidential electors-at-large.

Upon taking the chair Mr. Calkins was received with loud applause. The greater part of his speech was devoted to recounting the history of the Republican party and its legislation. Reference to the fact that the tariff was one of the bulwarks of the Republican party caused great applause, lasting considerable time. He paid a brief tribute to Harrison and Morton and prophesied their triumphant return and a pure administration.

A resolution demanding service pensions and expressing the opinion that the Republican National platform did not go far enough on this question, and another, sending greeting to Blaine, went to the committee under the rules, and it was but a few moments before the committee was ready to report.

The platform was next read by Hon. Will.
Cumbach. It pledged the electoral vote of Indiana to Harrison, condemned the action of the Democratic senate as revolutionary and criminal, called for the organization of a labor bureau, called for the passage of laws preventing the importation of foreign laborers, and the employment of children, demanded the passage of state laws exempting homesteads as well as personal property, demanded the granting of privileges to colored men to join the militia.

It favors local option, declaring that politics and legislation must be kept free from the influence of the saloon, and that the traffic must obey the law. This brought out general applause.

The granting of disability pensions was demanded, and the action of Confederate congressmen in delaying the payment of the direct tax to the Union states was condemned. The platform and the Blaine resolution were then adopted.

At this point the committee returned with Gen. Harrison. When the great audience caught sight of their favorite son, every man and woman rose to their feet, and for five minutes there was one deafening roar of cheers. Harrison stepped to the table and stood with clasped hands with the chairman.
He looked five years older than he did a month ago, and haggard and fatigued.

Time and again he essayed to speak, but the applause was renewed with cries of "What's the matter with Harrison?" Quiet was finally secured. Gen. Harrison spoke briefly, but with considerable force, energy and dramatic effect. He paid a brief but eloquent tribute to Sheridan and closed abruptly without any reference to National or state issues. There was renewed applause as he retired from the hall.

Chairman Calkins now said that nominations for governor were in order, and at once the convention became disorderly.

Yells for Porter went up in such volume as to make the building tremble, and pandemonium reigned. The din continued for several minutes, then subsided, and nominations began.

Robertson's name was first presented in a long speech which had to be shut off by the chairman, and was interrupted by cries of "Porter."

Frank Posey nominated Porter in a few words, and was followed by a delegate, who,
in a complaining tone said that Robertson had this morning sent a letter to Porter, placing in his hands a letter of withdrawal, accompanied by a statement that Mr. Robertson was made to believe that Porter would be a candidate if they were not for Robertson's candidacy. That letter, said the delegate, had not been answered, and in his excess of feeling he almost fell off his chair. But the convention refused to get mad at Governor Porter.

Gen. Tom Bennett got up and said Governor Porter had requested him to say to the convention that he was not a candidate.
"But I'm in favor of drafting him anyway," concluded the general, amid a chorus of yells. Various persons seconded Porter's nomination and a couple of delegates tried to throw cold water on his candidacy by intimating that he would not accept the nomination.

After talking the matter over fruitlessly for an hour a motion to adjourn until 2 o'clock was adopted and the delegates set out for dinner.

LATER—Porter is out of the race. Congressman Hovey will likely be the nominee.

Put Him to Sleep.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—The McGrath and Con. Donigan, well known athletes, weighing respectively 155 and 160 pounds, fought twenty-nine desperate and damaging rounds, yesterday, in a blacksmith shop in Seventeenth street, for $50 a side and to settle old scores. Donigan seemed to have a slight advantage for twenty-seven rounds, but then got wild and McGrath finished him in the twenty-ninth with a right hander on the jaw that put him to sleep for ten minutes.

Sporting Notes.

Extra inning games are becoming fashionable.

Cherry Blossom, Mulligan, Lizzie B. Fonchette, Quotation and Moonstone were first in the Chicago races.

Winners at Monmouth Park Tuesday were Niagara, Ransom, Little Minck, Oriflame, Lucy H and Elphine.

Tom Lees, the Australian middle-weight, and Jimmy Carroll, of Boston, have been matched for a finish fight.

John Morrill has been deposed as manager of the Boston base ball club, and Frank Selee, manager of the Omaha's, will take his place.

Frank Murphy, who lately fought Jack Havlin to a draw, has challenged Lee Weir, the "Belfast Spider," for a fight to a finish.

Artie Latham has signed a contract to appear next winter in a comedy called "Fashions," under the management of Lew Simmons. He will be paid $4,000 for the season.

TUESDAY'S BASE BALL.—Cincinnati 4, Baltimore 3; Athletic 4, St. Louis 5; Brooklyn 7, Louisville 0; Cleveland 1, Kansas City 2; Philadelphia 0, Chicago 5; Boston 0, Pittsburg 1; Washington 10, Detroit 0; New York 6, Indianapolis 4.

The American Association has determined to reduce the admission price to twenty-five cents after August 25. The old guarantee system has also been readopted, and the visiting club will receive $130 per game. The Brooklyn-Kansas City muddle is still unsettled.

APPRECIATES A GOOD THING.

Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage's Opinion of the Cincinnati Centennial.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 9.—Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage and F. DeWitt Talmage, his son, are in the city and stopping at the Grand hotel. The forenoon was spent by the distinguished preacher and his son in visiting the centennial.

Rev. Talmage is on his way to the Piedmont Chautauqua, near Atlanta, Ga., where he lectures to-morrow evening. On his return he will stop at the Urbana, O., camp and preach twice on Wednesday and Thursday of next week.

After returning from the centennial he expressed himself as follows:

"The Cincinnati centennial is indeed a great exhibition. Certainly it ranks next to the one at Philadelphia in importance.
What impressed me most as I stood in the midst of that marvelous display to-day was the immense amount of brain work it represented. Not a wheel that turns there but that first turned in some man's brain; not a masterly artistic creation but first existed in the human brain.

"Many brains have ached to distraction, doubtless have been driven almost to the verge of insanity through the labor that has resulted in those smoothly revolving wheels and beautiful designs.

"The clergyman, the doctor, the lawyer, the mechanic who visits that place must realize that his department is but one very small room in the great building of industry."

Bloody Election Fight.

HARRISBURG, Ky., Aug. 9.—News has been received from a reliable source that a bloody encounter ensued at the election Monday at Cardwell, one of the precincts in the northern part of Washington county.
The precinct is quite distant from any railroad. Two brothers named Matson were killed outright, and four other persons badly wounded, two of whom will probably die. The tragedy grew out of a feud that began at the August election two years ago, when one of the Matsons who was killed Monday shot one of the Herron brothers.

A Lively Storm.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Aug. 9.—This place was visited by a destructive storm at 7 Tuesday evening. The streets are flooded. The Arcade hotel was struck by lightning and the glass and brickwork were smashed to the value of $2,500. Chimneys were blown down and buildings unroofed. One boy was seriously injured. The damage to the surrounding country is immense, but as the wires are down the full extent cannot be learned.

Right at a Church.

WILSON, N. C., Aug. 9.—A fight took place at White Oak church near Saratoga, Wilson county, Saturday, between William Langly, of Edgecomb, and Ben. Baker, resulting in the death of Baker from a skull fracture. Langly is at large, having succeeded in evading the officers of the law.

IT IS FORMALLY OPENED.

THE NAVAL WAR COLLEGE ON COAST-ERS HARBOR ISLAND.

A Course of Lectures, by Some of the Best Authority on Naval Warfare, Already Begun—The Future Existence of the Institution no Longer in Doubt.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 9.—The naval war college, at Coasters Harbor Island, which was formally opened Monday by Capt. A.
T. Mahan, U. S. N., president of the college, commenced its regular course of lectures Tuesday morning. President Mahan lectured on naval history in the morning, and Lieut.
John F. Meigs, fleet gunnery officer of the North Atlantic squadron, one of the regular staff officers of Admiral Luce, brought out some very valuable points in connection with modern naval gunnery during the afternoon session.

Among the most prominent persons present at the college lectures were Admiral David D. Porter, Rear Admiral Stephen B.
Luce, Commodore W. S. Schley, of Arctic fame; Maj. W. R. Livermore, United States engineer; Capt. William Bainbridge-Hoff, commanding the Ossipee; Capt. Oscar F.
Heyerman, commanding the Yantic; Capt.
Colby M. Chester, commanding the Galena; Commander C. F. Goodrich, of the torpedo station; Capt. W. S. Dana, and many other prominent army and navy officers.

Capt. Mahan, in speaking of the college, said:

"The past year has marked for the college a period of misfortune and depression, to which all human enterprises are liable. The uncertainty of its future existence, due to doubt whether congress would appropriate the money necessary to go on, has been known to the service generally.

"That doubt and uncertainty has been removed finally. Not only has an unfavorable majority been changed to a favorable one, but there has been received from the most persistent of our opponents a kindly, generous letter announcing his intention of ceasing his opposition and wishing us success in our endeavors. The favorable result in congress has been due to the hearty support of professional opinion in the navy."

GENERAL SHERIDAN'S FUNERAL.

Many Notable Persons to be Present at the Obsequies.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—The funeral of Gen. Sheridan here next Saturday, while not on a great scale, will be imposing from the character of the attendance and will be as impressive as the Catholic church can make it.

The lot set apart at Arlington will be consecrated in advance by the bishop. St.
Matthew's church will be prepared for the occasion, and the leading dignitaries of the church in the east will take part in the burial masses and ceremonies. Special music will be prepared. The president and cabinet, the foreign legations, the leading officers of the army and navy, will be present, and the Loyal Legion and the Grand Army organization will be fully represented. Congress will send committees and a large company of distinguished men from all parts of the union will be here. Troops have been ordered from New York harbor and Fortress Monroe.

The State Offices Will Close.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 9.—Governor Waterman issued an order Tuesday that the state offices be closed Saturday, the date of Gen. Sheridan's funeral. He also requested that business houses be closed during the hour of the funeral.

Roasted Alive.

DENVER, Col., Aug. 9.—A special from Durango, Colo., gives particulars of a horrible accident on the open field, far from the habitation of man. A ranchman named Roberts had been working some miles away for another ranchman named Saline. Recently old man Roberts visited the Saline ranch to see his son. When the ranch was reached he was horrified to find the house in a mass of ruins. After a brief search he discovered the body of his son, frightfully burned and disfigured. Further search resulted in the discovery of Saline's body, also burned almost beyond recognition. The fire doubtless rose while the victims were sleeping.

Alleged Fraudulent Land Business.

POMEROY, O., Aug. 9.—Professor Charles T. Coates, long a leading educator in Dar-rington college, at Syracuse, this county, and in the high school at Letart, ten miles further up the river, was arrested at his home at Letart Tuesday by Detective Kalley, of Columbus, and taken to that city on the charge of obtaining $1,000 under false pretenses. The arrest is the result of Kentucky and West Virginia land transactions in which the professor was engaged, which the Columbus parties claim are fraudulent.

Michigan Knights.

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—A News special from Detroit says: The feature at the state assembly of Knights of Labor at Jackson, Mich., Tuesday, was the report of the statistician. It gives a canvass of forty-three assemblies on the tariff issue. It shows only nine assemblies in which over twenty men favor protection, while in twenty-four there are no protectionists. Six declare for free trade, and all are strong for tariff reform.

A Kansas Zephyr.

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 9.—By a cyclone at Wellington, Kan., Tuesday morning, whole fields of corn were torn up by the roots and the stalks stripped and ears husked. Many chickens were found entirely devoid of feathers miles from their homes, and other strange freaks are reported. One girl was hurt, but no one was killed. Half the tombstones in a cemetery were blown entirely away, and cannot be found.

Killed By a Truss.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Aug. 9.—James Hawkins, one of the most prominent farmers of Benton county, was accidentally killed Monday evening. He was riding on horseback when the animal stumbled and fell, falling upon Mr. H. in such a manner as to press a truss he was wearing into his abdomen, causing death in a short time. His sufferings were terrible.

hoped to make the ermine last long enough to clear the docket of everything except their own funerals.

A GRAND HUNT.

A Syndicate Being Formed in New York to Visit Greenland.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—For years past, sundry enthusiastic hunters and sportsmen have cast longing eyes toward the shores of Greenland. It is well known that Fox channel, on the coast of Greenland, is famous for the multitude of game of a curious description which there abounds. The fur of the Arctic fox is one of the most valuable of furs, while here are to be found wolves and the white bear. Besides these, seals and walrus are novel game. A syndicate has been formed for the purpose of building a handsome yacht of about 550 tons burden for an excursion to Greenland. Comfortable state rooms, dining cabins, bath rooms and such other convenience as may be necessary for the comfort of the excursionists will be provided. The number of passengers will be limited to sixty, and there are already fifty places engaged. The trip will occupy six months—from April 15, to October 15. Each passenger will be charged $600, which will include food and passage. There will be several ladies in the list of passengers.

A TRI-LE TRAGEDY.

An Insane Man Shoots Two Others and Then Suicide.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 9.—The East End was the scene of a sensational triple shooting affair at 8:30 o'clock last night. Two men were killed and the third desperately wounded. The tragedy occurred at the Rookwood pottery, at the end of the Elm street line of cars.

William Ackland, an employee of the pottery, who has been demented for some time past, picked a quarrel with Engineer Fryer, and shot him with a 38-calibre revolver. The ball struck Fryer in the left breast, inflicting a dangerous wound. Ackland then shot Joseph Bailey, the foreman who appeared on the scene. Bailey fell mortally wounded. The insane man next turned his weapon upon himself, firing a ball into his brain.

officers are: President, Thomas M. Logan; vice president, Charles E. Coon, of New York; secretary, David I. Carson, of New York. Among the incorporators are United States Senators Plumb and Hale, John H.
Inman, George S. Scott, C. S. Brice, J. S.
Pace and James H. Dooley. The company will engage in the general telegraph and telephone business under the system invented by Professor Elisha Gray.

A Prisoner Twenty-Three Years.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 9.—The governor has pardoned James Hudson, a "life timer" in the prison south, convicted of killing his stepfather in Vanderburg county, soon after the war, and who has been imprisoned twenty-three years. His trial was under the old law, where the accused was not permitted to testify in his own behalf, otherwise it is believed his own story would have acquitted him. The fight occurred over a beating given his mother by the old man. The prisoner has been paralyzed for some time.

Garrett is Crazy.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Robert Garrett's

ment has been officially notified by the Belgian minister that the second session of the international congress of commercial law

Preparing for Memorial Day.

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
 Proprietors.

THURSDAY EVEN'G, AUG. 9, 1888.

If the Republicans should succeed in making whisky free they would not only tippe canoe, but they would sink the old shell.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

In proportion to the vote, the Dover Democrats gave the banner majority at the late election. They polled four votes for every Republican vote cast.

What the Chicago Tribune, the leading Republican paper in the Northwest, says:

"Harrison is hated in California, because he voted fourteen times against the restriction of Chinese immigration."

EVERY Democratic rule of governmental action is violated when, through unnecessary taxation, a vast sum of money, far beyond the need of an economical administration, is drawn from the people.—Democratic Platform of 1888.

CAN you tell us why it is that a Republican high tariff admits diamonds into this country at a tax of 10 per cent and charges 87 per cent on window glass? Why is it unless it is to furnish the rich their luxuries at a less cost than the poor man has to pay for his necessities?

REPUBLICANS have been talking of carrying Alabama next November, but the returns from Monday's election are not at all encouraging to the g. o. p. The Democratic majority is larger than ever before, heavy Democratic gains being reported from the iron manufacturing centers.

The learned editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer speaks of "Ashland with its great Nail Trust," as being in Congressman Breckinridge's district. For the information of our esteemed contemporary we will say that the Ashland he refers to is in Hon. George Morgan Thomas' district.

ATTAR of roses, a perfume, comes into this country under the Republican high tariff free. Who ever heard of a poor man wanting a perfume that costs $20 or $30 an ounce? It is a luxury used only by the rich and they get it free of tax. But the poor man does some times use castor oil, and when he does use it he pays a tariff tax of 180 per cent. for his necessity.

"JOSS STICKS," an incense used by the "Heathen Chinese" in offering adoration to his idols, is admitted by the Republican high tariff into this country free, while the Christian Bible is made to pay a tax of 25 per cent. This is an evidence of the tender care of the "grand old party" for the almond-eyed lepers their candidate voted fifteen times to permit to come into this country and take away the work of free white Americans.

Why should tariff tax on a blanket be three times as much as on a piece of lace?

Why should silk stockings be taxed 25 per cent, and woolen stockings 80 per cent?

How does it happen that in Europe the lowest wages are paid in those countries that have the highest protective tariff schedules?

These are questions propounded by an exchange. Will some high tariff advocate please explain?

Now let all Democrats go to work earnestly and systematically and get ready for the fight in November. Let the county be thoroughly organized. If this is done, and the full vote gotten out the result will be as gratifying as last Monday's, and the Ninth district will be redeemed. Past differences should be forever forgotten, and the success and welfare of the party should be the aim of all. The November election is the one we want to win and it can be done if all will do their duty.

MR. HARRISON says "a cheap coat makes a cheap man." He tried that sort of argument during his fight with Blue Jeans Williams in 1876, and the plain people of Indiana, who have to wear as cheap coats as they can get, put the kibosh on Benjamin. In this land there is many a noble heart under a cheap coat, though the Republican candidate seems to believe that nobility of soul and swallow-tail coats are inseparable.—Alta Californian.

The news from Indiana indicates very strongly that the Blue Jeans Williams crowd—the fellows who wear "cheap coats"—are "laying for" Harrison this fall and will do their share towards consigning him to a political grave.

It is an encouraging sign of the times that the young Republicans of Kentucky are coming to the front. The party has never failed to grow in this State, and we have never taken a step backward. There has never been a campaign in Kentucky in which greater interest was taken or greater results expected.—Lexington Leader.

Our esteemed Republican contemporary will please take a squint at the returns and notice the big Democratic gains wherever there was any contest. The great results expected didn't pan out. And look out for the November returns. The Democrats of Kentucky haven't fairly got on their fighting clothes yet.

The Coming Congressional Convention.

There is a disposition on the part of the leaders of the Democracy of Mason County to send an uninstructed delegation to the Congressional convention which will assemble in this city on the 21st of the present month. Like reports come from other parts of the district. This is a wise plan and should be followed out. Let the delegates meet and look over the field calmly and carefully, and then select for the nominee the best and most available man. If this is done, and a man is nominated by the unanimous vote of the convention, success at the polls and the redemption of the district will be almost an assured fact. With such a nominee an earnest, united effort is all that will be needed to insure a victory in November. Past elections in this district prove this beyond a doubt. Any ways near the usual Democratic majority in Mason County alone in the past three campaigns would have given the district a Democratic Congressman. But internal dissensions resulted in a reduced majority and the defeat of the nominee.

The advocates of the various candidates who are now seeking the nomination should give these facts a calm consideration. They certainly realize the importance of the matter. It will be folly and a waste of time and energy to make a race in this district unless the nominee has the united support of the party. Let there be no strife and contention over the nomination.

Now for a word to the various candidates seeking the nomination. Don't try to push yourself on the party. Don't go too far in trying to secure the honor. The honor will be all the greater if tendered to you by the party, and your chances of winning in November will then be all the greater.

Words to Workingmen.

At a single session of Congress under the present Democratic administration seven distinct labor bills in the interest of the workingmen of the country were passed by the House of Representatives. Five of them were killed in the Republican Senate and but two of them were passed by that body.

The bills referred to are as follows:

A bill to legalize the incorporation of National Trades Unions.

A bill to protect laborers and servants in their wages.

A bill to investigate the kind and amount of labor performed by convicts in penal institutions, and ascertain its effect upon the industries of the country.

A bill to prohibit any public officer, agent or servant of the Government of the United States to hire or contract out the labor of prisoners confined for violating the laws of the United States.

A bill to prevent the employment of convict or alien labor upon public buildings or other public works, and in the preparation or manufacture of materials of public buildings or other public works.

A bill to prohibit the importation of foreigners under contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States. [Under this bill such persons arriving in this country were required to be sent back to the Nations from which they came, the expense to be borne by the owners of the vessels that brought them.]

At the session of Congress referred to the Republican Senate agreed to two of these bills, viz: the one to incorporate Trades Union and the one referring to convict labor. The others were suppressed (by the Republican Senate, remember) and prevented from becoming laws at that time.

It is not necessary to ask intelligent workingmen whether it is the Democratic House of Representatives or the Republican Senate that has been most friendly to the labor interests.

The Official Count.

Judge Coons, County Clerk Ball and Sheriff Perrine canvassed the returns from the late election yesterday. The vote for Sheriff was as first reported, Mr. Alexander's majority being 1,182. But few errors were found in the vote for Justices of the Peace and Constable, and they were slight.

A STRANGE WAR DUEL.

HOW A FEDERAL AND A CONFEDERATE SCOUT SETTLED MATTERS.

Guarding a Bridge in East Tennessee. How the Question of Possession Was Decided—Navy Pistols at Twenty Yards. The Results—Peace.

On the 13th of June, 1863, I witnessed a duel between Capt. Jones, commanding a Federal scout, and Capt. Fry, commanding a Confederate scout, in Green county, East Tennessee. These two men had been fighting each other for six months, with the fortunes of battle in favor of one and then the other. Their commands were encamped on either side of Lick creek, a large and sluggish stream, too deep to ford and too shallow for a ferry boat, but there a bridge spanned the stream for the convenience of the traveling public. Each of them guarded this bridge, that communication should go neither north nor south, as the railroad track had been broken up months before. After fighting each other several months and contesting the point as to which should hold the bridge, they agreed to fight a duel, the conqueror to hold the bridge undisputed for the time being. Jones gave the challenge and Fry accepted. The terms were that they should fight with navy pistols at twenty yards apart, deliberately walking toward each other and firing until the last chamber of their pistols was discharged, unless one or the other fell before all the discharges were made. They chose their seconds and agreed upon a Confederate surgeon (as he was the only one in either command) to attend them in case of danger.

Jones was certainly a fine looking fellow, with light hair and blue eyes, 5 feet 10 inches in height, looking every inch the military chieftain. He was a man soldiers would admire and ladies regard with admiration. I never saw a man more cool, determined and heroic under such circumstances. I have read of the deeds of chivalry and knight errantry in the Middle Ages and brave men embalm in modern poetry, but when I saw Jones come to the duelist's scratch, fighting, not for real or supposed wrongs to himself, but as he honestly thought, for his country and the glory of the flag, I could not help admiring the man, notwithstanding he fought for the freedom of the negro, which I was opposed to.

Brave, Cool, Collected.

Fry was a man fully six feet high, slender, with long, wavy, curling hair, jet black eyes, wearing a slouch hat and gray suit, and looked rather the demon than the man. There was nothing ferocious about him, but he had that self sufficient nonchalance that said, "I will kill you." Without a doubt he was brave, cool and collected, and although suffering from a terrible flesh wound in his left arm, received a week before, he manifested no symptom of distress, but seemed ready for the fight.

The ground was stepped off by the seconds, pistols loaded and exchanged, and the principals brought face to face.

They turned around and walked back to the point designated. Jones' second had the word "Fire," and as he slowly said "One—two—three—fire!" they simultaneously turned at the word "One" and instantly fired. Neither was hurt. They cocked their pistols and deliberately walked toward each other, firing as they went. At the fifth shot Jones threw up his right hand, and, firing his pistol in the air, sank down. Fry was in the act of firing his last shot, but seeing Jones fall, slightly lowered his pistol, dropped it on the ground and sprang to Jones' side, taking his head in his lap as he sat down, and asking him if he was hurt.

I discovered that Jones was shot through the region of the stomach, the bullet glancing around that organ and coming out to the left of the spinal column; besides he had received three other frightful flesh wounds in other portions of the body. I dressed his wounds and gave him such stimulants as I had. He afterwards got well.

Fry received three wounds—one breaking his right arm, one the left, and the other in the right side. After months of suffering he got well and fought the war out to the bitter end, and today the two are partners in a wholesale grocery business, and certifying the sentiment of Byron that "a soldier braves death," etc.—Confederate Surgeon in Georgia Union.

An Indian Outbreak Feared.

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 9.—The following is part of a letter from Constable Green, who shot the Indian over whose murder the trouble began:

"HAZLETON FORT, July 15. "It is dangerous to stay here. There are but five of us in the fort, against 500 wild Indians, and all on the murder. They have killed five men since we came up, and they say they are going to kill all of us some night. We don't get much sleep. Have to keep a guard on all the time. We do not know when they intend attacking us. We have sent to Victoria for more troops, and hope they will come up soon, but the Skeena river is so bad that it will take three or four weeks to get here. We do not know the moment we will be shot from the bushes, and dare not venture from the fort."

Skipped for Parts Unknown.

BOSTON, Aug. 9.—Arthur H. Almstead, head clerk in the Burzar's office, at Harvard college, left for parts unknown, last Thursday and the next day it was discovered that for several months he had been falsifying his accounts. The amount taken is said to be small. Almstead had been a clerk in the office for six years at a salary of $1,000 a year. He is twenty-seven years of age and has a wife and child at South Hanson.

The Two Doomed Men.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 9.—Landgraff, who murdered his sweetheart, Annie Fisch, will undoubtedly hang next Friday. He has been denied a jury to investigate his mental condition.

Maxwell still hopes for a respite in his case, on the ground that two of the jurors who tried him were prejudiced. His execution is also set for Friday.

The Boston Herald Building Sold.

BOSTON, Aug. 9.—It is stated that the Boston Herald building on Washington street has been sold by Royal M. Pulsifer, the transfer being effected August 30. The terms of the transaction are withheld, and no one appears to understand its significance. The building is valued by the assessors at $370,000.

The Leedom Club Opens the Campaign at Aberdeen With Music and Oratory

An Enthusiastic Crowd Listen to Speeches From Wall, Phister and Cole.

The Leedom Club of Aberdeen opened the campaign with a grand ratification meeting last evening.

The Bandana Club of this city and other Democrats went over about two hundred strong. The start was made at 7 p. m. from the court house, Haucke's famous band heading the procession. As the music was wafted across the river announcing the coming of the Kentucky boys the booming of cannon from the Ohio shore sounded a hearty welcome. The ferry-boat carried the Kentucky crowd safely over to the Aberdeen shore, and the march up the grade and through the principal streets of the town followed. The boys were in good humor, and when the band opened out with "Dixie" the music was drowned amid the wild cheers from the marching clubs. The Leedom Club joined the line about this time, and when the speaker's platform was reached every one seemed to have caught the enthusiasm of the occasion and the air was filled with cheers for Cleveland and Thurman, with occasional hurrahs for Alexander.

The speaking was in front of the Mineral Well House, where a handsomely decorated stage had been erected. The crowd was very large—estimated at over two thousand. The boys were orderly and inclined to cheer anything and everything. The Leedom Club was not only out in full force but also other clubs from Huntington Township. Hon. John P. Leedom and Hon. Ulric Sloane failed to put in appearance, and the Bandana Club had to come to the front with some of its oratory.

The first speaker of the evening was Judge Garrett S. Wall, who made a good extemporaneous speech, receiving frequent applause. He was followed by Thos. R. Phister, Esq., who spoke at some length reviewing the issues of the day in an interesting manner. Judge A. E. Cole delivered a thoughtful address, confining his remarks mostly to the tariff issue which he handled ably and well. The speeches were all received with unbounded enthusiasm.

On the line of march back home as the club reached the river bank the electric light on the steamer Bonanza, at the Maysville wharf, was turned full on the Ohio shore causing an enthusiastic Leedom Democrat to exclaim: "Look at the light of heaven shining upon the glorious Democracy."

The remark was received with cheers. The rally was a grand success and the Ohio Democracy may be depended upon to do their duty. They are wide awake and at work.

The music by Haucke's Reed and Brass Band was greatly appreciated by our friends over the river.

The ladies of Aberdeen presented Mr. Phister and Judge Cole each with a handsome bouquet of lovely flowers and Judge Wall with a Bandana handkerchief in appreciation of their speeches. The Leedom Club also formally presented Dr. J. M. Frazee, President of the Bandana Club, with a handsome Bandana handkerchief which the Doctor promised should be waved for a glorious victory in November.

Curious Suit For Hotel Property.

An extraordinary suit for forcible entry and detainer has been brought by the assignee of Mrs. Thos. Crockett against Messrs. Collier & Connor, the proprietors of the Ashland House, at Lexington. The parties obtained the hotel from Messrs. Brooks & Green, who sold the lease to them with the condition that they were to be acceptable to Mrs. Crockett. The latter has since made an assignment, and the assignee seeks to recover the property on the ground that Mrs. Crockett's consent was only verbal and hence not binding.

WINCHESTER is determined to have a college. At a meeting of the subscribers to the fund to remove the Kentucky Wesleyan from Millersburg it was unanimously resolved to raise the money to put up the buildings proposed by the Methodist Board of Education, and then to present it to the Conference.

THE Paris Kentuckian says: "Maysville is the boss town in Kentucky to do the handsome thing, as shown by her reception of the G. A. R.'s, of the State and the Knights Templar and her part in Knights of Pythias and the Odd-fellows parade at Cincinnati. At this last occasion their headquarters, at Dennison Hotel, were thronged by callers, all of whom were welcomed in real old-fashioned Kentucky style. As their Haucke band played "Dixie" and "Old Kentucky Home" in the march they were heartily cheered."

THE DECISION OF ITALY.

SHE WILL TAKE POSSESSION OF A SLICE OF AFRICA.

Massowah and Surrounding Country to be Appropriated—Several Bertha Socialists Arrested—Riotous Parisian Strikers. News From Over the Sea.

LONDON, Aug. 9.—Signor Crispi was undoubtedly assured of the strongest backing before issuing his circular note, proclaiming the intention of Italy to definitely take possession of Massowah and the surrounding territory. The latter phrase is so ambiguous and capable of such elastic interpretation that there is no wonder it has given rise to uneasiness in certain quarters. Of course the French are implacably aroused, for they had congratulated themselves that King Humbert and his advisers were heartily sick of Abyssinia, and happy that the army had gotten out of it, in not too indignant a manner. Now the French journals are exulting their vocabulary of invective, and Italy is denounced as perfidious, as Albion was popularly declared to be a few generations ago.

It goes without saying that the astute gentleman so well acquainted with the motives of political action seen in the latest move the inspiration of Germany. It happened so soon after the meeting of the emperors that it was evidently the result of the suggestion of William, confirmed by the acquiescence of Alexander. The former wished to vex the Gallic soul through his ally. The latter was not unwilling to gratify his imperial guest, and show Europe by his independent attitude that any rumors of French predilections on his part were baseless. M. Goblet recapitulates history to prove the utter baseness and illegality of Italy's cause in confiscating such an indefinitely described slice of Abyssinian territory, but his protests will have no force at all against the combined promptings of Italian ambition and Germany's policy.

Italy's doings may not be exactly in strict accordance with international comity, but Signor Crispi would not have to deliver very far into the archives of the past to find instances of French treatment of Italy, which will not be readily forgotten.

As a result of the lapse of the Franco-Italian commercial treaty, the inhabitants of the former country represent that their southern neighbors are on the verge of National bankruptcy, and there is no doubt that considerable disturbance has arisen from the sudden divergence of the old channels of trade, but the French accounts are much exaggerated and may be regarded as the natural result of the present dislike to Italy and its people.

But the French wrath is nothing to the consternation with which the Italian soldiery regard the decree which dooms another portion of them to the barbarous and pestilential hole in which so many of their comrades yielded up their lives by disease and the last refuge of despair at their unhappy fate, suicide. Officers of influence are using all the means at their command, to avoid being among those to be sent to the dreaded shores of the Red sea, and there are murmurings and threats of insubordination in more than one regiment.

Berlin Socialists.

BERLIN, Aug. 9.—A meeting of 2,000 Socialists Tuesday was dissolved by the police, who arrested several persons. The government exercises the greatest discretion in dealing with the Socialists, and the press is muzzled completely so far as it might be disposed to make sensational reports of their operations, or of the repressive measures taken by the government against them. It is deemed of the first importance that their principles should obtain the very minimum of notoriety, for there is no doubt that both the middle and lower classes of Germany are more widely indoctrinated with Socialism than their representation in the reichstag would indicate.

They have only eleven representatives in the present reichstag, although they cast 774,128 votes, being an increase of 224,195 since 1894. The National Liberals, now the strongest party, has 104 representatives on a vote of 1,555,153. The Liberals, who are to be but slightly distinguished from the Socialists in principle, poll a vote of 549,302, and have thirty-one representatives. The disproportion of the Socialist representation in the reichstag to the number of votes they cast is an indication of how generally they permeate society.

The fact that they have increased over one-third in three years is a menace to the autocracy of the Hohenzollerns. The line between Anarchists and Socialists is very distinctly drawn in Germany. The latter not only discountenance Anarchy and dynamite plots, but would place the ownership of all properties in the hands of government, and so assumedly make of the emperor a more absolute sovereign than now. Beyond this, however, is recognized the ultimate aim of a popular administration, before which all social grades would be abolished.

There are signs throughout Europe of unusual activity among Socialists, of which Belgium is the center, which may be a result of a prospect of war, which is deemed favorable to the growth of Socialism. The National Liberals, have cut loose from the conservative parties in Germany, and the Liberals and Socialists expect in the next election to largely increase their representation in the reichstag. The government is nervous over the outlook, since out of the Socialist ranks spring the Anarchists and fanatics dangerous to the peace of mind of emperors.

Strikers in Paris.

PARIS, Aug. 9.—After the strikers' meeting Tuesday the striking waiters smashed the windows of a cafe, and the striking barbers' assistants attempted to storm a number of registry offices. Gendarmes with drawn swords restored order. Resolutions were adopted demanding that the government withdraw the troops from the workshops, and declaring the readiness of the strikers to accept the arbitration of a municipal commission to settle the question of wages. Conflicts with the police were renewed in the evening. Several arrests were made. The cabinet at a meeting discussed repressive measures.

The strikers at Amiens Tuesday evening tried to attack the residence of M. Coquet, whose factory was sacked Monday night. The streets were cleared by troops.

A Communist's Funeral.

PARIS, Aug. 9.—Gen. Endes, the ex-Communist, who died of apoplexy while addressing a meeting of strikers, was buried with great display. Enormous crowds followed the procession to the cemetery. Speeches were made by M. Henri Rochefort and Louise Michel. Flowers almost con-sealed the coffin, and red flags were conspicuous among the crowd. Many cheers were given for the Commune.

Foreign Notes.

During a "norther" Monday night two large barks, one English and the other French, sank in the harbor of Valparaiso after having been in collision. The crew of the English vessel, consisting of seventeen hands, and seven of the French crew were drowned. Five vessels were blown ashore and dashed to pieces.

Gen. Newdegate is gazetted as governor of the Bermudas.

The debate on the Parnell inquiry bill still continues in the British commons.

Mr. Gladstone writes that his advanced age and his public duties prevent his visiting the Scotch crofters.

The Spanish government has decided to impose a heavy poll tax upon Chinamen immigrating to the Philippine islands.

Col. Gouraud appeals to all comrades of Gen. Sheridan in England to unite in calling a meeting to express condolence with the general's family.

YUKON NEWS.

Activity Among the Gold Miners—William Ogilvie's Travels.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 9.—From Victoria, B. C., the Pioneer Press learns that news was received to-day from William Ogilvie, who left there a year ago last June with Professor Dawson to survey and explore the northern country in behalf of the Dominion government. Professor Dawson returned, but Ogilvie proceeded north from Chitlat, Alaska, and wintered on the Yukon. On reaching the Yukon Ogilvie explored it for about seven hundred miles.

In September he camped for the winter. In March he left for McKenzie river, which he will explore and then proceed across the country to Winnipeg, where he expects to arrive in November. There were seventeen miners who came out from the Yukon gold mines. Some who had been in two or three years came out with $3,000 worth of dust and others had more. Forty Mile creek, a branch of the Yukon, is a scene of great activity. Gold, which is coarse, is taken from the banks and bars of the river. Work can only be carried on two months in the year at most.

Mrs. Rawson Paralyzed.

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—Immediately after Mrs. Rawson, the banker's wife, of divorce and shooting notoriety, secured her release from the county jail a few weeks ago, she was taken by her friends to a Wisconsin watering place. But her stay at the summer resort was short, as a paralytic affection of the hands and feet began to develop itself, and her immediate removal to Chicago became necessary.

Partial paralysis of both hands and feet has now set in and the unfortunate woman cannot use her hands even to sign legal documents. The attendant physicians fear she may lose the use of her feet and hands permanently. Her condition is attributed to her imprisonment and the damp condition of the jail.

A Whole Family Cremated.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—The family of Gustave Berh, numbering four persons, inclusive of himself, wife, daughter Lizzie, aged twelve years, and his mother-in-law were burned to death during a fire in the four-story brick tenement, No. 1028 Avenue A. The building was occupied by a number of families. The damage to the building is estimated at $6,000 to $8,000; insured. The effects of the tenants were completely burned in most cases. Their losses range from $500 to $1,000 each.

Bad Accidents Coincident.

SHELBYVILLE, Ind., Aug. 9.—Miss Maggie Stewart, a young lady living in the north part of the county, was thrown out of her buggy Tuesday, and her dress catching in a wheel she was dragged quite a distance and badly hurt. On the same day and near the same place her mother had a similar accident and was severely hurt.

Indications.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Rain and local storms; slightly cooler; winds generally westerly.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Quotations for the Money, Stock, Produce and Cattle Markets for August 8.

NEW YORK.—Money 1 1/2 per cent. Exchange steady; Governments steady.

Currency sixes, 120 bid; four coupons, 127 1/2 bid; four-and-a-half, 107 1/2 bid.

There was a spurt of activity in the stock market at the opening this morning, but the dealings soon settled down to a fairly active business, which was quite evenly distributed over the leading stocks, though St. Paul, Lake Shore, Western Union, Reading and New England were most prominent. First prices, as compared with last evening's closing figures, were about steady, being either unchanged or but slight fractions different either way. The subsequent trading failed to develop any special feature of interest, however, the movements in the list being confined without exception to small fractions only.
